Dear Parishioners,

“This is the day that the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad.” These are the word of our responsorial psalm for this Easter Sunday. Yes, there is cause for rejoicing, there is a reason to be glad as the Lord has conquered sin and death, and now there is promise of a new and eternal life with the risen Christ forever.

Our gospel for Easter seems to narrate the happenings of that Easter morning. Mary Magdala went to the tomb in anticipation of anointing the body of Jesus. She was worried about the removal of the stone at the entrance of the tomb. What surprised her was not only that the stone had been removed, but Jesus’ body was taken. Her response was to run to Simon Peter to tell him about this surprise. Then we hear how Peter and John went running to the tomb to investigate themselves as to this disappearance. Apparently there was a disconnect between what Jesus had said and their memory of what was said. Needless to say, they were surprised to say the least. And the gospel tells us that they saw the burial cloths in such a way that the body just seemed to disappear. Then John tells us in this same gospel, “they saw and believed.” Not sure what they believed as the final sentence tells us that they “did not yet understand the scripture that He had to rise from the dead.”

“This is the day that the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad.” On behalf of the priests, parish staff, grade school administration and personnel, I want to wish each of you a very Blessed and Happy Easter. May this event of the empty tomb fill each of your lives with a hope and faith in the risen Christ, a faith and hope that comforts, strengthens, and challenges each of you to see and believe in your lives.

Next Sunday, April 11th, is Divine Mercy Sunday. It is also the weekend that the Bishop has lifted the dispensation from Mass that he gave over a year ago. This general dispensation that is lifted then obliges us to attend and celebrate the Eucharist on Saturday night or Sunday as our way of keeping the Lord’s Day holy. Now there are particular dispensations, however, that are still in effect, namely, for those who are quarantined, those who are not feeling well, those who are most vulnerable and fearful of this pandemic, or those who might be guided by such fear that they seemingly cannot attend. But this is your individual judgement and I ask you to use it wisely. The main part of the Church will no longer be for social distancing. If you desire that distance, I ask you to sit in the sections of the Church on both the left and right of these two main sections of pews. I also continue to encourage you to wear your masks, not so much for yourselves, but rather out of courtesy for others who might have that fear of this virus. Look at it as an act of charity—its only for one hour a week.

I also want to thank all those who contributed so much for the beauty of our Church for the Triduum as well as Easter Sunday. The atmosphere each day of the Triuum reflected the celebration we experienced. I also thank all those who donated Easter flowers to adorn our Church on Easter. Besides the environment, our music, musicians, lectors, servers, and our entire parish family made our Triduum and Easter celebration something to remember. Thank you to all involved.

Welcome to Those Who Are Joining the Catholic Church at the Easter Vigil at St. Peter's

My name is Lucas Kite. This past year a friend introduced me to the Bible. We would read passages and discussed them. As a result, I asked my Grandmother, Linda Shields, if she would, not only, read with me, but help me to learn more about the Catholic faith. As a result, I began attending RCIA classes.

As I learned more about the life Jesus lived, I wanted to join the Catholic Church. I've become very interested in the Bible and I find new meanings in the epistles and gospel readings each week. This has helped me center my life in a positive direction.

I'm interested in pursuing a career that would involve helping and caring for people in need.

In my free time, I enjoy spending time with my family, reading, writing, and exercising.

My name is Ryan Willingham, and I am currently in the process of proclaiming my faith as a Catholic. My wife, Jenny, and I have been establishing our roots at St. Peter Church for the past five years. Previously, we attended other Catholic Churches in the area, but decided St. Peter is where we felt at home. During this time, my interest in the Catholic faith has grown. I am grateful for the RCIA program as it has answered many questions that I have formulated over the years. My wife and I have been married for almost 13 years, and have been blessed with three daughters, Anistyn (9), Laikyn (7) and Aylah (4). They attend St. Peter School, and I am employed by the City of Quincy. In my spare time, I enjoy spending time with my family outdoors.

A Big Thanks to our 2020-2021 RCIA Team:

Fr. Leo's column continued

On this Easter Sunday, I would like to share a story with you. A small boy and his grandfather were flying a kite on a high hill. The kite soared into the sky. Then suddenly a low cloud hid it from their sight. After a few minutes the grandfather said, "Robbie, maybe some thief in the cloud stole your kite!" Robbie shook his head. "But Robbie, how can you be sure that kite's is still at the end of your string?" The boy responded, "because I can feel what you can't. I can feel the kite tug at my string." That story illustrates why many people who weren't blessed to see Jesus after the resurrection were sure, nonetheless, He had risen. They could feel the "tug" of the risen Jesus in their lives. They could feel the power of the risen Jesus at work in their hearts. On this Easter Sunday, what is one way I feel the "tug" of Christ in my life right now. To be honest, for me that tug comes from my parishioners. Thank you.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE: A man went to his doctor for a check-up on his hearing aids. The doctor asked, "how did your family like your new hearing aids?"

"I haven't told them yet," the man replied.

"How come?" the doctor asked.

"Well I decided to wait and just listen to them talking," the man said.

"So, what did you hear?" the doctor asked.

"I've decided to change my will three times already," the man answered.

HAPPY EASTER!

Magi. Leo J. Eulow
